

Performance Commentary

Equity markets performed strongly this past month. The S&P 500 index posted its strongest August return since 1986 and in Europe the STOXX 600 index scored its best August since 2009. SKAGEN Global outperformed its benchmark in August. The fund's top absolute performer was the software specialist firm Adobe. Amidst the pandemic, the company continues to widen its moat with a digital offering that remains best-in-class in many categories. The worst performer in absolute terms was the professional services company Marsh & McLennan. The share did not keep up with the overall market rally, but we believe that the fundamental story remains intact. The fund initiated a new position in MSCI, a company providing mission-critical investment decision support tools for the equity and fixed income markets, including its flagship products, the MSCI indices. Its scalable business model coupled with material optionality around ESG products are undervalued for long-term investors. We exited JP Morgan and Ageas in August. While we applaud management in both companies for strong execution, fundamentals have deteriorated in the post-COVID-19 world and we expect persistent headwinds that weaken the investment cases. The portfolio is attractively valued given the fund's long-term investment horizon.

The fund selects undervalued companies from around the world, including emerging markets, with attractive risk-reward for long-term investors.

The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return.

The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.
