Investment strategy

SKAGEN Kon-Tiki is a value-based emerging markets equity fund. It seeks to generate long-term capital growth through an actively managed, high conviction portfolio of companies which are listed in, or have significant exposure to, developing markets. Subscriptions are made in fund units and not directly in stocks or other securities. The benchmark reflects the fund's investment mandate. Since the fund is actively managed, the portfolio will deviate from the composition of the benchmark.

Monthly commentary, August 2023

Emerging Market equities came under pressure as negative economic headlines from China continued to weigh on risk sentiment. The shares of property developer Evergrande resumed trading after an 18-month suspension and dropped by 80%, a stark reminder of the challenges facing China's over-indebted real estate market. As authorities continued to weigh up financial support and stimulus measures, foreign investors withdrew from the Chinese equity market. Interestingly, key commodities including growth sensitive ones such as copper, iron ore and oil held steady or increased during the month.

SKAGEN Kon-Tiki outperformed its benchmark through good stock-picking and a revaluation of our Russian holdings. Food retailer Magnit completed a buyback of 21% of its outstanding shares from non-resident investors, establishing a market price. Oil company Lukoil was reported to have sought permission for a 25% share buyback at a 50% discount.

Despite a drop in half-year profits, Chinese oil company CNOOC's results were ahead of market expectations. The company maintained its attractive shareholder return policy, in line with our investment thesis. Korean cosmetics producer Cosmax continued its rebound on the back of strong 2Q23 results, which saw profits increase more than 150% from last year.

The main detractors were Chinese insurer Ping An, which suffered from concerns over its investment portfolio and Brazilian bioenergy producer Raizen, which fell on the back of weak quarterly results. The company held back sugar and ethanol sales on expectation of higher prices in coming quarters. Land-based salmon farming company Atlantic Sapphire fell sharply on weak 2Q23 results and a warning that it is likely to breach its banking covenants in 3Q23.

We made two new investments during the month. Mexican healthcare company Genomma Lab entered the portfolio as we expect the company's shift to internal production to benefit margins going forward. We also received shares in Colombian food retailer Exitto as it was spun out of our Brazilian retail group GPA. As a result, the portfolio now consists of 50 holdings trading on 7x current year earnings and 0.8x P/B, which is around 45% below the MSCI EM index.

Sustainability

SKAGEN's approach to sustainability

Our ESG approach is built on four pillars. In keeping with SKAGEN's active investment philosophy, our sustainability activities centre on active engagement with our holding companies, which is where we believe we can have the greatest impact. We recognise, however, that the full potential of a sustainable investment strategy is best realised when combining the following four pillars.

- ✓ Exclusion
- ✓ Enhanced due diligence
- ✓ ESG factsheet
- ✓ Active ownership
