

Performance Commentary

After a weak start to the month, stocks recovered in the second half of August driven by easing concerns over possible trade wars and continued solid earnings reports. The biggest contribution to SKAGEN Vekst's absolute return came from our Danish transport and logistics company DSV. The company reported strong results for the second quarter and announced a new buy-back program. The Danish manufacturer of wind turbines Vestas also had a strong month. In addition to strong results from its service business, order intake improved and market concerns around price pressure eased somewhat. The largest negative contribution came from our Russian bank Sberbank. The strong results for the second quarter were not enough to counter the increased uncertainty caused by new US sanctions and a weak rouble. The Norwegian conglomerate Bonheur also had a difficult month, as the market fears the outcome of the forthcoming debt restructuring of its 50%-owned offshore drilling company Fred Olsen Energy. SKAGEN Vekst initiated a new position in the Norwegian fast-moving consumer goods company Orkla in August. We see significant upside to earnings estimates driven by higher margins and use of its under-levered balance sheet to acquire new businesses.

The fund selects low-priced, high-quality companies in the Nordic region and from around the world.

The objective is to provide the best possible risk adjusted return.

The fund is suitable for those with at least a five year investment horizon.

Effective 1/1/2014, the Fund's investment mandate changed from investing a minimum of 50% of its funds in Norway to investing a minimum of 50% of its funds in the Nordic countries. This means that returns prior to the change were achieved under different circumstances than they are today. Prior to 1/1/2014, the benchmark index was an evenly composed benchmark index consisting of the Oslo Stock Exchange Benchmark Index (OSEBX) and the MSCI All Country World. The benchmark index prior to 1/1/2010 was the Oslo Stock Exchange Benchmark Index (OSEBX).
